HUGHES FAMILY OF LLANGADWALADR, LLANSILIN AND LLANARMON.

H874

When Sir Herbert Roberts (the member of Parliament for West Denbighshire) received the well-deserved honour of a baronetcy, some of the newspapers mentioned the fact that maternally he was descended from the family of Hughes of Sarphe, Llanarmon. The genealogical information thus supplied was but meagre, and in some of the papers it was not quite accurate. Having in my possession a pedigree of this family, and as the descendants of Richard Hughes of Sarphe are numerous in this district, it may be of interest to publish some of the particulars.

The pedigree begins with Beli Mawr (died 72 B.C.), and carries the line down to Einon Efell (died 1196), thence to Rhun ap Einon, Kyhelen, Ieva, Madog Goch, Madog Kyffin, Ieuan Gethin, Griffith, Gytlyn, Rhys, Morris ap Rhys, to Lewis Morris of Pantglas, Llangadwaladr, (died 1690), who married Jonett, daughter of Evan Vaughn of Lloran, and had issue (1) Morris Lewis of Pantglas (who died 1697) see "Cywydd Marwnad" by Huw Morus; (2) Edwrad Lewis of Lloran, (his daughter Mary married Richard of Penheilyn); and David.

Morris Lewis married Mary, daughter of Hugh ap Richard of Plas Yolan and had issue (1) Edward (who died within three months after his father in 1697); (2) Elizabeth married Maurice Jones of Dol in Edeyrnion, Esq.; (3) Lettice; (4) Mary (Will dated 5 May, 1728 proved 5 Nov., 1729, to the poor of which parish she bequeathed £30) (5) Hugh Morris. He married Catherine, daughter of Owen ap John of Scrogan in Llangedwin parish, and had issue Thomas Hughes of Llansilin (a descendant of this branch of the family is the present Mayor of Wrexham), and Richard Hughes of Sarphe Llanarmon, who married Catherine daughter of John Tudor of Tanygarth, Glyn Ceiriog. Richard Hughes and Catherine his wife, were among the pioneers of the Welsh Methodist Cause in the Llanarmon neighbourhood, and in consequence of their adherence to their Nonconformity they were compelled to leave the farm.

Catherine Hughes died in 1811, age 89. Her husband died in 1813 age 96, and on the Tombstone in Llanarmon Churchyard, it is stated that at the time of their death their descendants numbered 168. They had a family of nine children, viz.

1. Elizabeth (died aged 86), married Lewis Edwards, Tyntwll, Llanarmon and had issue.

1. David Edwards.
2. Catherine Edwards.
3. Edward Edwards.
4. Elizabeth Edwards.
5. Richard Edwards.

Each one of the five married and in each case they had a family of 10 children. Elizabeth and her family emigrated to America.

HUGHES FAMILY OF Llangadwaladr, Llanfyllin and LLANFYLIN.

When Sir Herbert Roberts (the member of Parliament for West Glamorgan) received the well-deserved honour of a baronetcy, some of the newspapers mentioned the fact that materially he was descended from the family of Hughes of Gorphio, Llanfyllin. The genealogical information thus supplied was but meagre, and in some of the papers it was not quite accurate. Having in my possession a pedigree of this family, and as the descendants of Richard Hughes of Gorphio are numerous in this district, it may be of interest to publish some of the particulars.

The pedigree begins with Bell Mawr (died 1580), and carries the line down to Elinor Kell (died 1595), thence to Rhys ap Rhys, Kynaston, Lewis, Madog Goch, Madog Kyllin, Iwan Gwyn, Glyn, Rhys, Morris ap Rhys, to Lewis Morris of Pantglas, Llangadwaladr (died 1600), who married Jane, daughter of Evan Vaughan of Llanwr, and had issue (1) Morris Lewis of Pantglas (who died 1625) and (2) Edward Lewis of Pantglas (who died 1625). His daughter Mary married Richard of Penrhyn; and David.

Richard Hughes and Catherine his wife, were among the pioneers of the Welsh Methodist place in the Llanfyllin neighbourhood, and in consequence of their adherence to their Nonconformity they were compelled to leave the town. Catherine Hughes died in 1811, age 89. Her husband died in 1813, age 95, and on the tombstone in Llanfyllin Churchyard, it is stated that at the time of their death their descendants numbered 168.
